General Strike in Cotton Industry Has Been Called; Steel Workers May Walkout

By The Associated Press

A general strike last night was ordered in the cotton textile industry and the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers theatened similar action as President Roosevelt moved to pour oil on the troubled industrial waters.

Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers, said the general strike, affecting some 400,000 workers, would be placed in effect Monday unless "satisfactory concessions" were granted before then.

Textile unions oppose an NRA approved order calling for a 25 percent curtailment in production. A conference with General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator is scheduled Friday but McMahon made clear the general strike would take place unless the production curtailment move were rescinded.

The steel association statement came on the heels of an announcement from the president approving a drastically revised steel code in an attempt to prevent the impending strike in the industry. The president gave the promise that steel workers would obtain elections to choose representatives under government supervision.

Steel union officials said there would be a general strike unless the steel industry accorded them the right to choose their own spokesmen for collective bargaining.

The new code provided for administration veto over the code authority; fixed unconditionally a maximum eight hour day, and continued the average 40 hour week of as many as six days.

Shortly after the president's announcement the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers said a general strike would be called unless the steel industry gave them the right to choose their spokesmen for collective bargaining. The statement made no reference to the president's announcement.

Elsewhere on the industrial front:

Pittsburg, Kas.—The request of strip pit coal mine operators in southeast Kansas for troops to maintain order was withdrawn. Spokesmen for the Idledeep shaft miners promised they would not resume the march against strip pits, a number of which they forced to close Tuesday.

Belleville, Ill.—Two men were treated for serious injuries suffered in outbreaks of violence during a demonstration by 5,000 workers in sympathy with striking employes of the Knapp-Monarch Electrical Appliance factory. The mayor telegraphed the national labor board to send a mediator to end the difficulties.

Toledo, O.—The industrial situation was becoming critical here, with the electric auto-lite strike deadlocked, power company employes planning to walk out of the Toledo Edison company today (Thursday) and a general strike of all unions for one or two days to be called by a mass meeting Thursday night. The Electric company employes demand a 25 percent wage increase. Mediator Charles P. Taft summed up the auto-lite impasse by saying: "what can you do?"

San Francisco—Pacific coast longshoremen voted on a proposal of ship owners for joint operation of the disputed hiring halls, San Francisco strikers rejecting it while union leaders at Portland decried the suggestion as "a subterfuge."

Eleven persons were injured in a riot here but police were quick to assert that the 700 rioters had no connection with the strike and identified them as communists.

Pekin, Ill.—Illinois guardsmen were called out to preserve order after a crowd of pickets at the American commercial alcohol distilling plant prevented about 100 deputies from entering. A lockout has been in effect several days.

FOUR ARE KILLED WHEN PLANES FALL

Mansfield, O., May 30.—(AP)—Two men were killed and a third critically injured tonight when their airplane fell at the Municipal airport here.

The dead men are Roger Chew and L. W. Kuhn, both 20. Harry Russell, 26, pilot, is in the Mansfield hospital with a fractured pelvis and a broken left hip and ankle.

Russell had taken his two friends up for a pleasure jaunt.

As they came in to the airport at about 500 feet, witnesses said, the plane spun twice and crashed.

His neck broken, Chew was killed instantly.

Kuhn was alive when taken from the wreckage, but died in a hospital of a punctured lung.

San Antonio, Tex., May 30.—(AP)—Two Randolph Field soldiers were killed late today when the plane in which they were riding crashed at Yarrelton, Tex.

The dead were Private Byron K. Newcomb, 42, pilot, Kansas City, and Private Malrin S. McCready, 25, Palestine, Tex., both of the 52nd School Squadron, Randolph Field.

DROUGHT SEARS CROPS THRUOUT UNITED STATES

State And Federal Officials Work On Relief

Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Farmers and stock growers searched the skies in vain today for signs of showers as heat seared crops and starving cattle continued at the mercy of one of the worst spring droughts in history.

State and federal officials, foregoing their Memorial Day holiday, worked overtime on plans to bring relief to feed famished areas, many of which faced partial or complete destruction of crops.

Holiday picnic parties, proverbially the target of sudden downpours, went unharassed, but their usually verdant setting were drab with dust and browning vegetation.

Forest fires and grasshopper plagues added to the desolation in many sections.

A promise of local rains brought some consolation to Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, upper Michigan, the Dakotas and the extreme north portion of Wisconsin, but the best held for other middle western farm states was the possibility of a drop in temperature.

Unless dairy farmers receive help immediately, many Illinois cities will face milk famines, said Walter W. McLaughlin, director of the state department of agriculture. He termed the drought the worst in the state's history.

Declaring a drought emergency exists, Governor Henry Horner of Illinois appointed J. H. Lloyd, assistant director of agriculture, as drought relief administrataor and appealed to the railroads to cut freight rates on grains and forage feeds to be shipped into the state from the west.

An award of $1,000,000 for seed and $600,000 for feed was made to Wisconsin by the Federal Emergency Relief administration, while the same agency awarded $100,000 to be used for drought relief purposes in six counties of New Mexico.

The immediate opening of government contracted acreages in drought areas of Iowa for forage will be permitted by new rulings of the agriculture adjustment administration, Representative Wearin (D-Iowa) said at Washington. Iowa farmers, he said, will be permitted to plant and harvest any forage crops they may desire on such land, except corn or corn sorghums.

At St. Paul, Dr. E. W. Sheets, federal drought relief administrator, said that on Friday the government will begin the purchase of approximately 1,200,000 cattle to aid farmers facing a feed shortage.

POLITICAL FEUD BREAKS OUT, 2 MEN ARE KILLED

Deputy Sheriff Is Stabbed; Five Hit By Bullets

Rio Grande City, Texas, May 30.—(AP)—Two men were killed, a deputy sheriff was stabbed and five other persons were struck by bullets in a gun battle and knife fight today at a political meeting which reopened a feud dormant for 226 years.

Davil Gomez and Pablo Solis, residents of the ranching community of La Grulla, and believed to be American citizens, were killed by pistol bullets. Deputy sheriff Ivario Elizondo, stabbed, was taken to a hospital. Five others received minor bullet wounds.

The fight occurred as speakers opposed to the Guerra regime, Starr county political rulers for 28 years, addressed a crowd of several hundred persons including a large group of school children.

Two Killed

Shooting broke out on the crowd's outskirts shortly after J. T. Canales of Brownsville mounted the rostrum for an address. Gomez and Solis fell dead.

Elizondo, knifed by an unidentified assailant, fell in the crowd of milling and shouting spectators. Bullets that missed Gomez and Solis tore into the tightly packed crowd of listeners.

No arrests were made immediately, but Texas Rangers rushed here from Falfurrias. An investigation was started by Sheriff Gama Guerra, present at the rally.

Not since 1908 have the Guerra forces faced opposition in this county. They are backing Archie Parr of Benavides, for re-election as state senator, while the "Blue forces," those who conducted the rally today, have thrown their support behind Judge F. W. Seabury of Brownsville.

The Guerra leaders at a meeting Monday, unfurled a red flag—emblem of their party—for the first time in a score of years. The Seabury followers retaliated today by hoisting a blue flag—their emblem—on the speaker's stand. Approximately 100 school children, blue ties around their necks, stood in the crowd when the shooting began.

STATE POLICEMAN SHOT AND KILLED BY FARM HAND

"Egg Eating" Champion Is Slain After Killing Officer

Wickford, R. I., May 30.—(AP)—Lieut. Arnold L. Poole of the state police was shot to death today by Peter Freeman, 59, a farm hand.

Soon afterwards Freeman, known locally as an "egg eating champion" was killed by gunfire of state police reserves who hunted him through the farm buildings and cornered him in an icehouse.

Freeman became involved in a quarrel with T. Edward Standeven, the farmer. The dispute was so heated Mrs. John Baker, wife of the owner of the farm, telephoned state police.

When Lieut. Poole arrived Freeman had disappeared. Poole and Standeven found him in one of the farm buildings with a 12-guage double-barrelled shotgun in his hands.

Freeman fired at Standeven, who dropped to the ground unhurt, got up and ran for cover. Poole drew his pistol and tried to enter the building. Freeman shot him in the head, then shot him twice more while he lay on the ground.

Meanwhile Standeven had telephoned state police barracks again. A squad of troopers found Freeman in an icehouse. When police approached, Freeman came to the floor, carrying the gun. Several troopers fired at him with pistols and riot guns. He walked back into the building. The troopers found Freeman lying on the floor, fatally wounded. He died soon afterwards.

A year ago, in a contest with three other men, Freeman ate fifty boiled eggs at one sitting to win the championship of the section.

1,800 TREATED

Baltimore, May 30.—(AP)—Eighteen hundred men, women and children required first aid treatment from fainting and minor injuries today during the military mass held by 75,000 Roman Catholics in the Baltimore stadium.

Although the day was not oppressively hot, the more than two hours required for the staging of a huge parade resulted in hundreds being overcome. More than 400 were reported treated for fainting, while hundreds of others received injuries, none serious.

The patients were handled by an emergency hospital.

100 AT PANA

Pana, Ill., May 30.—(AP)—The temperature reached 100 here today, the highest recorded in May since 1894, according to H. B. Miner, weather record keeper.

President Roosevelt Hails "New Understanding" in U.S. In His Gettysburg Address

Gettysburg, Pa., May 30.—(AP)—In the bright sunshine of this battle field of the "brothers' war," President Roosevelt today hailed a "new understanding" in the United States.

"We know that we all have a stake—a partnership in the government of our country," he told the vast throng of faces covering the decorated fields. "All of us share in whatever good comes to the average man. We are all brothers now in a new understanding."

Reaching this historic town late in the afternoon, Mr. Roosevelt halted in the national cemetery opposite the grave-circled monument where Abraham Lincoln consecrated the ground to government by the people, to watch children drop flowers on the tiers of graves of men who fought here.

Speaking from a platform nearby a few minutes later, he asserted it is "in our power to attain the great ideal—a consolidated nation."

"Here, in the presence of the spirits of those who fell on this ground," he said, "we give renewed assurance that the passions of war are mouldering in the tombs of time and purposes of peace are flowing in the hearts of a united people."

Hindering Progress

Three elements were listed by the president as hindering progress: "these groups are those who seek to stir up political animosity or to build political advantage by the distortion of facts; those who, by declining to follow the rules of the game, seek to gain an unfair advantage over those who live up to the rules; and those few who still, because they have never been willing to take an interest in their fellow Americans, dwell inside of their own narrow spheres and still represent the selfishness of sectionalism which has no place in our national life."

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania was cheered as he introduced President Roosevelt as "the leader" who has taken the helm of a "newly united nation." He presented the president as "a maker of decisions."

In opening his brief address, Mr. Roosevelt interpolated a word for Governor Pinchot, whom he described as "a man who has so splendidly served the cause of progressive government and humanity."

Throngs lined the route of the presidential party from the station to the cemetery. Governor and Mrs. Pinchot rode in the open car with Mr. Roosevelt.

The president returned after the brief and simple exercise to his special train to hasten on to New York where tomorrow he will review the United States fleet.

From a platform among the trees, not far from the spot where Abraham Lincoln dedicated the national cemetery in 1863, the president spoke to thousands massed on the greensward about the road semi-circle of graves where lie more than 3,000 known and unknown Civil War soldiers.

From an open car, friends pointed out for the president the hallowed places where after three days of furious fighting, the tide turned for the armies of the union.

As he ascended the rostrum, he was greeted by a smiling, white-haired little woman, of 85, Mrs. M. O. Smith, of Hanover, Pa., who sang on the platform the day Lincoln stood in a November wind and dedicated the new cemetery of the battlefield.

She was a slip of a girl then but she recalled today that the rail-splitter president complimented her and kissed her.

The presidential party arrived late in the afternoon and was greeted by Governor and Mrs. Pinchot, U. S. Representative Haines and an official party. They rode in an open car with motorcycle escort through the historic streets, past the old McLellan house which was used as a hospital during the war and where General Barlow's wife was stationed as a nurse the day he fell wounded.

The twelfth field artillery of Fort Hoyle, Md., fired the presidential salute as the president's car rolled into the cemetery.

Thirty six airplanes maneuvered above the battlefield.

A parade disbanded at the cemetery just as the president's car arrived and Mr. Roosevelt asked that his car be stopped while he watched school children scatter flowers over the soldiers' graves.

In the rostrum with the president were a delegation of United States senators, representatives and other men prominent in public and private life. U. S. Representative Harry Haines of Red Lion, Pa., presided and Russell C. Martin of Los Angeles, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who came here at the personal invitation of the president, read General Logan's order which established May 30 as Memorial Day.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by Park F. Yengling, national commander in chief of the sons of union veterans, of Bay Village, Ohio. The Rev. Dr. Robert J. White, Washington, D. C., national chaplain of the American Legion gave the invocation, and the Rev. Dr. Herbert C. Alleman of Gettysburg delivered the benediction.

The first American clocks were made of wood.

Diet Derby Ends With Contestants Losing Poundage

Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Everybody lost in the diet derby. The 30-day derby, in which three women tried different diets to shed excess poundage, ended today with all three entrants the losers.

But the losers were winners because with each pound shed the dieters gained in beauty, health and energy, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, who supervised the derby, said.

A total of 32 pounds was lost by the three women whose diets included quantities of bananas and skimmed milk in combination with other necessary foods.

One of the women, happy at her loss, announced she would continue dieting even though the derby is officially ended.

The derby entrants, and the weights they lost were as follows: Alice Joy, 9 1-4; Felicia Terry, 14; and Deon Craddock, 8 1-2.

UNITED STATES CANNOT COLLECT FROM DEBTORS

No Reply Is Received From "Please Remit" Notes

By Lloyd A. Lehbras,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, May 30 — (AP)—The United States was faced today with a slender chance of collecting millions of dollars owed this government or American citizens by debtors all over the world.

While President Roosevelt put the finishing touches to his war debts message to Congress, diplomatic efforts to collect approximately a half billion dollars were apparently fruitless.

Summarized the American debt situation is:

1. None of the 13 debtor nations with war debt installments falling due June 15 has made any reply to "please remit" notes dispatched to them through their envoys here. Only Great Britain—aside from prompt Finland—held out any promise of partial payment. Other debtor nations, barring financial miracles, were expected to default.

2. Negotiations with Soviet Russia for a debt funding agreement covering loans made to the provisional Kerensky government, imperial Russian bonds floated here before the World War, and private claims, were momentarily stalemated.

Further Reduction.

3. Germany, despite vigorous protests by the United States, announced a further reduction in its interest payments to approximately 250,000 holders of $600,000 in German bonds.

Definite official information concerning action by the United States or any of the European creditor nations in debt question was lacking. Secretary Hull and Undersecretary Phillips conferred with the president for nearly an hour before he left for New York, but neither the White House nor state department disclosed the nature of their talk.

The president told newspapermen he expected to send the war debt message to Congress Friday. He gave no hint of its nature, except that it contained nothing which would require legislative action by Congress.

A tentative debt funding agreement under which Finland would receive materially reduced interest rates, has already been negotiated, but the president's statement indicated he might not send it to this session of Congress for ratification.

Despite the fact Finland is the only nation which has met its obligations in full on due dates considerable opposition to the refunding agreement was said to exist in Congress, due chiefly to the precedent it might set for similiar debt adjustments with other nations.

From one well-informed source it was learned Great Britain had made cautious overtures for a partial payment of its installment due June 15 on the understanding—or in the hope—that the United States would agree to enter into discussions for a readjustment of the entire debt question.

President Roosevelt has made it clear apparently the United States would not participate in any general debt conference. He has offered several times, however, to discuss possible readjustments with any one creditor nation.

The British proposal—forecast in press dispatches from London—was believed to be a diplomatic attempt to achieve the equivalent of a general settlement through negotiations carried on only by Great Britain.

MEMORIAL DAY DEATH LIST IS PLACED AT 39

Automobile Accidents Again Take Large Toll

By the Associated Press

Death took its annual toll as the nation took to highways, beaches and recreation spots for the Memorial Day outing.

Early tabulations showed that 39 persons lost their lives in accidents and violence in the Northern States. The day is not a holiday in the south. The death list stood:

Automobiles—12.
Airplanes—7.
Drownings—8.
Auto-train crashes—4.
Other causes—8.

Planes Fall

Two soldiers lost their lives when a plane crashed at Yarrelton, Tex.; two men were killed in an air crash at the Mansfield, O., municipal airport; one man was killed when a ship burst intto flames near Newcastle, Ind.

One person was drowned in Illinois; two in Iowa; three in Minnesota; one in Indiana and two in Ohio.

Four persons were killed in the crash of an automobile and a train at Flint, Mich. Three others were hurt so badly they likely will die.

Among those who died from other causes was a woman who fell from her New York apartment window as she leaned out to watch her baby being photographed for the first time. A farmer fell from a roof in Wisconsin. Two men were killed in Texas, a deputy stabbed and five others shot, in a quarrel at a political meeting, and in Rhode Island, a state policeman was shot to death as he attempted to arrest a farm hand, later killed by police.

Automobiles as usual were killers over the holiday. Three automobile deaths were recorded in Texas; four in Illinois, one in Minnesota, two in Indiana and two in Ohio.

GUARDSMEN TO PROTECT PLANT AT PEKIN, ILL.

Soldiers Are Called When Pickets Turn Back Deputies

Pekin, Ill., May 30.—(AP)—A company of Illinois National Guardsmen was called out tonight as a crowd of pickets at the American Commercial Alcohol Distilling company turned back a force of 100 special deputies seeking to gain admittance to the plant.

Infantry of Company G, Quincy, was ordered to proceed at once to Pekin to guard the distillery where picketing has isolated the plant for several days. Patrolling the Illinois river in boats and guarding highway entrances, the pickets have sought to keep out all other workers.

The Guardsmen left Quincy at midnight by bus and expected to arrive at the scene of today's disturbance about three hours later.

Officers who attempted to enter the plant today withdrew without resistance when picketers declined them permission to enter. The deputies were accompanied by C. O. Skinner, National Guard officer, and were met by picketers armed with pick handles.

Regular officers of the company were permitted to enter, but the deputies were declined admission. Their cars were reported to be equipped with machine guns and tear gas equipment.

More than 100 special deputy sheriffs have been sworn in by Sheriff James Crosby in anticipation of the re-opening of the distillery which was scheduled for tomorrow.

The lockout resulted from the dismissal of a number of employees by the distillery which formerly employed 1,500 girls wrapping whisky bottles, but discontinuance of this work reduced the payroll to 200.

Discharged workers have been replaced with non-union workers from the east, George Graham, union manager, said. While no serious rioting has taken place, National Guard observers have been on duty several days.

Thirty-five girl employes not on strike were marooned in the distillery Tuesday, held prisoners by pickets for a day without food. Taxis bearing food to the girls were halted by the picket lines, and the girls were escorted to freedom at night only after deputies forced their way through the lines.

Governor Horner arrived here tonight and immediately went into conference with the sheriff, his National Guard observers and officials of the company.

Clyde Barrow's Mother Arrested By Texas Police

Dallas, Tex., May 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Henry Barrow, mother of the slain desperado, Clyde Barrow, was arrested tonight after she entered a theater showing newsreels of the death scene of her boy and Bonnie Parker, and shouted, "You can't do that to my boy."

In the midst of the showing of the film, taken near Arcadia, La., where Clyde and Bonnie were mowed down by officers last week as they sped along a highway, Mrs. Barrow appeared in the aisle and screamed the admonition repeatedly.

Theatre attaches grabbed her and escorted her to the front exit.

Outside she snatched down placards and was immediately arrested by police.

PEACE BETWEEN GERMANY AND FRANCE SOUGHT

Great Britain Asks Nations To Bridge Gap Now

By Joseph E. Sharkey
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Geneva, May 30.—(AP)—A plea by Great Britain's foreign secretary at today's session of the disarmament conference that France and Germany bridge the gap separating them drew from a French spokesman the rejoinder that "France is willing to bridge the gap but will take care not to fall through hidden traps into the water."

The fiery address by Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister in which he replied sarcastically to the plea of Sir John Simon and lambasted Germany dissipated whatever optimism was felt as the result of the talks yesterday by M. Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs and Norman H. Davis, United States Ambassador-at-Large.

Sir John stressed the German position in past conferences that she would not insist upon any armament reductions by other powers for five years and had urged the British draft, providing partial rearmament of the Reich, as the only practical basis for an international agreement.

No Disarmament

The British spokesman severely criticized Litvinoff's security pacts proposal, declaring that if the conference is changed into machinery for devising security plans "no disarmament is possible."

Barthou charged that Germany is openly confessing violation of the Versailles treaty by publishing a military budget which indicated rearmament, especially in the air.

"I refuse to adopt an attitude of complacency," he said, "and keep silent in the face of this grave sequence to Germany's bolt from the league and the disarmament conference."

The withdrawal, he declared, means that Germany is not bound by regulations binding other nations.

The British delegation left the room at the end of the speech in obvious ill humor, but Sir John Quickly called British newspapermen in and explained that Barthou's remarks would not be allowed to affect Anglo-French relations.

He excused the French Minister on the ground that it was his first appearance at Geneva for an international gathering, his usual addresses being before the parliament at home.

Sir John in his address had alluded to the French position as an attitude effectively closing governmental negotiations and had warned the conference that Great Britain is prepared to continue conversations, but will "not lend itself to a continuance of vague and inconclusive discussions."

In his post-session discussion, Sir John said frankly the day's developments increase the difficulties of reaching any agreement.

He said he would not reply to Barthou in the conference, but added there were several inaccuracies in the French delegate's speech, notably when Barthou said there was complete agreement among the great powers last October 14 on a disarmament plan to be submitted to Germany.

The United States and Italy, he said, did not consider it as an agreement.

France has never told England, Simon said, whether she would accept any rearmament of Germany, but he interpreted Barthou's address as meaning that France's answer is "no."

The impression prevailed that Barthou was particularly aroused by Simon's plea for conciliation with Germany on the basis of the British plan and his intimatoin that Britain will abandon the conference unless something is done.

St. Louis, May 30.—(AP)—Following repairs to Springfield and Peoria, Ill., airports, American Airways officials announced here today the company is ready to resume service between those ports and East St. Louis. Permission for resumption of service was granted by the Illinois Commerce Commission yesterday.

WOMAN DID NOT COMMIT SUICIDE RELATIVE CLAIMS

California State Treasurer Retains Criminologist to Prove Case

Sacramento, Calif., May 30.—(AP)—Insisting his pretty 22-year-old daughter Virginia did not commit suicide as police concluded, but was "murdered by a fiend," Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer and candidate for governor, engaged E. O. Heinrich, criminologist, today in an attempt to prove his contention.

The grief-stricken father asked Heinrich, a noted hunter of criminals, to recreate in theory the bizarre death scene in a detached private garage near the Johnson home from which the scorched body of the girl was taken Monday night.

Johnson sought particularly to check against the police conclusion that Virginia, suffering from a brain lesion which brought dreaded spells of coma, drenched herself with kerosene, applied a match and then lay on the floor of the garage while the roaring flames took her life.

Rejecting not only the police conclusion but also the same theory accepted by Mrs. Johnson and their living daughter, Mrs. Claire Fitzgerald, the state official deemed it impossible his daughter would have obtained the jug of kerosene and a handful of matches and then have walked three blocks to a strange vacant garage to burn herself to death.

"The whole theory of suicide as concluded by the district attorney is preposterous and fanciful," said Johnson. "We who lived with Virginia can best determine the girl's nature and character and it is our conclusion she would not, could not, have done such a tragic thing. x x x"

Against Johnson's contention the police pointed to a note which Virginia started to write a few hours before she died.

"Dear Claire," it said, "I am trying to live for you but there's——." It was at that point that Mrs. Fitzgerald saw the note, tore it from Virginia's hands and threw it away.

Johnson contended the fragment of the note was not conclusive and that it merely indicated Virginia's anxiety over Mrs. Fitzgerald, who soon is to become a mother.

The St. Charles Fiasco

During the past two weeks 26 boys escaped from the St. Charles School for Boys, Illinois institution for delinquents. The result has been the dismissal of two employes who had charge of the cottage from which the main break occurred. Seventeen boys left this cottage in one group by breaking bars from a basement window.

One of these lads returned to the grounds with what appeared to be a new auto and picked up three other boys who were playing in the rear of a cottage. Six more escaped during the period, bringing the total to 26. Eleven have been returned to the institution, and the hiding places of most of the others are known.

All this sounds like somebody left the gate open. To be sure, St. Charles is not a prison in the true sense of the word; but it is a place where bad boys are supposed to stay when they are sent there by the courts. The dismissal of two employes is enough to show that the state department believes there was much carelessness involved in the affair, if not willful intent to let the boys escape. The people of Illinois would be pleased to have the matter cleared up.

Debtors Are Billed

This week Uncle Sam sent the usual bills to ten of the 13 European nations that owe us money. France, Belgium and Great Britain had already received their notes. Defaulters are asked to pay in full to date, payment to include back charges with the regular June 15 installments. The notes were handed to the foreign representatives in Washington.

Now if all defaulters would only pay up in full, there might be some hope of a settlement which would clear up the debt situation for good and all. Before the United States can talk final settlements, there must be convincing evidence that the debtors are sincere in their desire to meet their obligations.

Hard cash is the best convincer; it will talk loudest in persuading this country to make any further compromises in the foreign debts. President Roosevelt is watching the result of the present billing.

If the debtors pay no attention or if they make only token payments, the debt question will likely remain open. It is most troublesome, and makes the international situation very uncertain. But it cannot be settled by a wholesale cancellation on the part of the United States, without regard to the shameful defalcations of the debtors.

If they were unable to pay, there might be some excuse. But England has a big treasury surplus, and France has a good gold reserve. Europe boasts that she is farther along the road to recovery than is America; but it is easy enough to prosper while bills go unpaid.

The Crowds Increase

Two hundred thousand dollars was the conservative forecast of the "gate" at the McLarnin-Ross fight in New York City the other night, which fell short by $25,000 of the actual intake. This is the first time in a long time that the advance estimate on such an attraction has been bested by actual receipts.

In Chicago larger crowds are flocking to the Century of Progress Exposition. When the gates were closed in 1933 no one was certain that there would be an extension of the Exposition. But the management took a chance and has been rewarded with record-breaking attendance. The opening day this year drew 35,000 more people than last year.

Larger crowds are attending the big league ball games. Although a minor league team or two has found it necessary to drop out because of poor attendance, the big league patronage as a whole has shown a decided upswing.

What is the cause of this general increase in receipts of sporting and entertainment events? Is the entertainment better, more thrills to be seen, or is there a more vital answer? Promoters of boxing, wrestling and other spectacular attractions seem to be rubbing their hands in glee at the prospects. They have sensed a returning interest on the part of the public in these events. That interest may have been present all the time, but now is backed up by something more practical.

The tick of the turnstiles and jingle of coin are the things that are helping the sport ventures, the fair and baseball. Customers at these events do not ask for credit—couldn't get it if they did. Only cold cash figures in these deals. The patrons must lay down the money to gratify their craving for thrills and entertainment.

Where are they getting the money? Has the average citizen been saving a little during the lean years. Surely not, because unemployment has cut inroads into the savings of millions. The problem of saving has been absent from the lives of many, because they had nothing to save.

But fight fans, fair patrons, baseball enthusiasts are getting a hold of cash again and are spending it. If they didn't save it during the last three or four years, they surely are making it now. The money has to come from some place.

Is it possible that the sporting world advance scout of a genuine and returning prosperity, is out of the storm cellar and waiting for other lines of business to come along?

The Boomerang

Comes a report from England that Mrs. Bertrand Russell is suing her husband for divorce, charging unfaithfulness. The case will make a good scandal in English courts this summer. In the projected divorce there is a sort of irony of fate.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Russell have written favorably of companionate marriage. Mrs. Russell has expressed it as her opinion that "complete inexperience is inadvisable for both men and women when they marry," and "I would not insist on absolute faithfulness after marriage."

Yet this woman who has expressed such liberal views comes now to the courts seeking divorce from her husband on the very grounds she has approved. She has probably discovered what every faithful couple knows, that true marital happiness is best secured thru mutual loyalty and fidelity. Her liberal views, flung out for others to read and absorb to their harm, have proved a boomerang to herself, which reminds us that those who sow to the wind often reap the whirlwind.

Army Officers' English Best

From the Boston Transcript.

Professor Wyld, an Englishman whom his countrymen accept as an authority on English as it should be spoken, says that the mother tongue is most consistently heard at its best among officers of the regular army. "Their utterance," he says, "is clean-cut and precise, yet free from affectation; at once downright and manly, yet in the highest degree refined and urbane." He does not maintain that this quality is the possession solely of army officers. We presume he would admit that the Oxford don shares it, though he might say that there is a shade of preciosity in the speech of the don that is not to be detected when army officers are conversing together.

Commenting upon this the London Times offers the explanation that the army officer, with the rarest exceptions, comes from the ruling class in whom is born the instinct to command, and therefore habitually speaks with authority. His social position and profession are such that he need never mince his words. Nor does he ever dream of trying to impress one with an affected style of speaking. He does not bother his head about the niceties of language but goes straight to the mark of making himself understood in as few words as possible.

We see only one flaw in this argument. If it is the habit of command that imparts this enviable quality to the British officer's speech, why does it so lamentably fail in the case of the drill-master and the top sergeant? Hundreds of these noncommissioned officers have passed us in review in the pages of Punch, and we must say that their language, though clothed with authority, is not exactly of the kind that we associate with the crushes of Mayfair. It may be urbane, but it has the tang of the mews rather than of Rotton Row.

If we bring our studies nearer home, we wonder how this theory is borne out in the experiences of the men in the American Expeditionary Force. Were they impressed by the excellent English of kitchen police and others put in authority over them? While they were peeling potatoes and cleaning up were they sustained and soothed by the "qualities of maximum resonation, or sonority, with the clearest possible differentiation of sounds?" In the pages of war-drawings printed lately, we search in vain for any such tribute to the subaltern officers. Fluency is intimated, and there is possible sonority, but the vocabulary is of a kind not to be found in family dictionaries. The habit of command, then, does not explain why British officers use the best English. If that were so the language of our traffic cops would be set up as the model for aspiring youth in this country. But somehow it misses the right note. Even when it is good we don't like it.

SO THEY SAY!

The New Deal in Washington

Bilbo Viewed as Joke, but He's Strong Senate Threat . . . Outlook Is Sour for Dill . . . Magnus Boils Over With Swedish Wrath . . . Copeland and Farley Truce Rumored.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, May 30.—Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi was the victim of many wise-cracks around here during those few months in which he served as chief scissorer and paster of newspaper clippings in the Department of Agriculture.

That was no less because of the remarkable interviews he gave than for the fact that Senator Pat Harrison had landed him a political sinecure at $6000 a year.

But it's not so funny when you hear —as one does hear now from excellent sources—that Bilbo is likely to get a six-year job in the U. S. Senate.

Although his enemies say he would be the most obvious demagog who ever rose that high in political life, he is leading in the campaign for the seat now held by Senator Hubert D. Stephens.

Stephens, according to senatorial grapevines, is licked. The other contestant in the August Democratic primaries is Congressman Ross Collins, an independent liberal who has achieved national notice in the House.

His friends report Bilbo is "strong as horse radish" and fear the people who don't like him will split up between Collins and Stephens, letting Bilbo slip in.

They hope Bilbo can be laughed to the rear by August.

Harrison was supposed to have brought Bilbo here to keep him out of Mississippi. It didn't work. Bilbo has been the state's governor in past times and involved in various scandals. Once he fired 179 state college professors all at once.

He is an expert campaigner, speech maker, baby kisser, and politician. Strangely or otherwise, Huey Long of Louisiana is popular with many Mississippians.

Huey hasn't said yet whom he wants to be senator from his neighbor state. But he doesn't like Bilbo and leans toward Collins. And if Huey speaks up, he probably can name the next Mississippi senator.

Looks Sour for Dill

This looks like a Democratic year, but other Democratic senators than Stephens are having their troubles over renominations.

Senator Clarence Dill of Washington isn't saying anything about it, but he has decided not to run.

He may change his mind, but he'd like to be chairman of the powerful new communications commission which his bill would create, and he faces lots of primary troubles if he enters again.

Dill has been driven nearly frantic by patronage troubles. He is more or less in wrong with various factions at home—none of which reflects on anything except his political judgment.

In Nevada they're gunning for Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, who has been here twenty-two years.

Pittman is still strong with cattle and sheep men, but veterans are looking askance at him, certain banking scandals have hurt him, and there's some Nevada feeling—far from justified—that he has "let us down on silver."

Scandinavian Scorn

You won't find this in the Congressional Record, but it happened on the House floor.

Representative Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, excitable Swedish-born ex-senator and dirt farmer, became so exercised in an argument with Representative Theodore Christianson, Minnesota ex-governor, that he waved his fist under the Christianson nose.

"Talk Swedish to him, Magnus," urged Congressman Roy Ayers of Montana, hopefully.

"The —— —— —— is a Norwegian," yelled old Magnus. "He wouldn't even understand that!"

Copeland Weathers It Out

But something you will find in the Record is a speech on the New Deal delivered by Postmaster General James A. Farley. It was put there by Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, whom Farley and Roosevelt don't want their party to renominate this year.

For months Farley has been looking for a strong candidate to oppose Copeland. Apparently he hasn't found one. Copeland is a great vote-getter. This latest incident strengthens recent rumors of an armistice.

WILL ROGERS Says:

To The Editor of The Journal and Courier

Beverly Hills, Calif., May 30.—Walking Monday afternoon through one of the most famous of the historical California missions, San Juan Capistrano, (half way to San Diego) and who should I find in meditation before a wonderful old picture, (depicting the joy of the harvest, and the merrymaking at the sale of the crops) it was Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, tears were in his eyes, and he kept murmering lowly, as he turned to the altar, "Oh, what have I done Father that I couldn't have been secretary of agriculture in days like those."

Yours, Will Rogers.

Loans to Farmers in Morgan County Over Half Million

A total of $628,700 of Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner's farm mortgage loans was made in Morgan county, from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934, according to the Farm Credit Administration.

Of this total, farmers in Morgan county used approximately $545,800, or 86.5 per cent to refinance their indebtedness. By refinancing, farmers obtained new mortgage loans which they used to repay their old debts. They generally reduced their annual interest charges in doing so. In a number of cases, scale-downs of indebtedness occured in connection with the new loans. These and other advantages benefited farmers primarily. Secondarily, creditors benefited from the receipt of cash or bonds in exchange for obligations they held.

Of the loan money used by farmers in Morgan county for refinancing their debts, about $302,400, it was estimated, repaid their debts to banks; $41,500, their debts to insurance companies; $3,800, their taxes; $3,700, their debts to merchants; $192,400, their debts to "others", or creditors not separately classified, including private mortgage lenders, mortgage loan companies, retired farmers and many others to whom farmers were in debt.

A total of about $84,900 of loans in the county was used for purposes other than the refinancing of borrowers' debts. Of this sum, $59,100 was used for the purchase of land and equipment, the construction or improvement of buildings, and for general agricultural uses, including the provision of capital, while $25,800, the balance, was used for the purchase of stock in national farm loan associations, for loan fees, etc.

Throughout the United States approximately $675,000,000 of land bank and Commissioner's loans were made from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934. Most of these loans were made to refinance debts resulting from the long period of low farm income.

Generally farmers pay considerably less interest each year on the new than on the old loans. Land bank loans made through national farm loan associations carry an interest rate of 5 per cent, but there is a reduction to 4½ per cent until July, 1938. Loans made direct by banks carry a rate of 5½ per cent, but there is a reduction to 5 percent until 1938. The rate on Commissioner's loans is 5 per cent. Against these rates farmers in most cases had been paying from 5 per cent to 8 per cent, but on numerous loans they had been paying 9 per cent, 10 per cent, and even above 10 per cent.

Until March 26 the land bank and Commissioner's loans were made in cash. Commencing on that date they were made mainly in the government-guaranteed bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. These bonds are exempt from all Federal, state, municipal and local taxation, except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes. They are guaranteed fully as to principal and interest by the United States government. In a relatively short period after they were issued, they sold above par and had met a favorable reception from farmers and their creditors all over the United States. With the use of these bonds, the refinancing program is going forward rapidly.

SMALL GRAIN BEING KILLED: FARMERS PLAN SUBSTITUTES

Urbana, Ill., May 30—Widespread destruction by drouth and chinch bugs of Illinois' four principal small grain crops, valued at an average total of $57,485,200 annually, will mean that thousands of acres of winter wheat, spring wheat, oats and barley will have to be replanted with substitute crops if farmers are to get anything off this land, according to J. C. Hackleman, chief in crops extension at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Legume crops such as soybeans and cowpeas will get the callin most cases because they are resistant to chinch-bug attack and can still be planted at these delayed dates, he said.

Chinch bugs already are well along with wheat threatens to be the most serious crop damage that they have ever caused in this state. Although the young bugs are just hatching, the old bugs are causing unprecedented damage to barley, spring wheat, winter wheat and oats. In previous chinch bug infestations the damage which the old bugs did in the small grain fields was relatively insignificant compared with the damage done by the new brood in July and August, but such is not the case this year.

Aiding the chinch bugs in their destruction of fields of small grain has been the continued drouth. Even where the crops will not be completely destroyed by the combined effects of the drouth and chinch bugs, the yields will be seriously reduced.

In answer to many farmers who have signed AAA reduction contracts, Hackleman explained that there are no restrictions in these contracts which prohibit farmers from replacing destroyed wheat, oats, barley or other feed crops with soybeans, cowpeas, or any other pasture or hay crop. Under present conditions, however, it would be unwise to seed sudan grass and other grass crops alone for pasture or for hay, as they are too easy prey for chinch bugs.

"Any crop that is seeded for a replacement crop should first be considered from the standpoint of chinch bug resistance. This means that leguminous crops such as soybeans and cowpeas will be the most popular for seeding during the latter part of May and the first half of June.

"Unfortunately, where it is necessary to replace barley, oats or spring wheat, it probably will be impossible under continued drouth conditions to seed, the soybeans or cowpeas deep enough to get sufficient moisture to bring up the young plants. The best that can be done is to get the seed and have it on hand ready to go into the ground just as soon as rain comes."

POINT CHURCH CLASS AT LAZENBY HOME

The members of the Worth-While Sunday school class of the Point church held their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Lazenby. Nineteen members and several guests were present.

Roll call was answered by naming a favorite keepsake. Mrs. Annie Coultas read a paper on "Antiues."

Each member took antiques to the meeting and placed them on display. Included in the list were valuable shawls, china, silver, and jewelry. A feature of the display was a teapot formerly owned by the Richardson family in England. Seventeen of the members of the class are related to the Richardsons either by birth or by marriage.

At the close of the meeting, a refreshment course was served by Mrs. Lazenby. Among the guests from a distance were Mrs. Lucy Ebey of Monroe City, Mo., and Mrs. Grout of Winchester.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Carter Gilpin and his preliminary hearing was set for June 4. He was placed under $200 bond.

Report Factory is Leaving Belleville

The Knapp-Monarch Company of Belleville, which has been considering this city as a possible location for its factory, is now the center of a sympathetic strike of some 5,000 workers in Belleville plants, which began Tuesday. Labor leaders said that the strike was merely a "labor holiday" in an effort to secure recognition for the union in the Knapp-Monarch factory.

It is definitely reported that the factory is to be moved from Belleville, and a part of its equipment is said to have been moved to St. Louis. Tuesday a truck load of office furniture left the plant.

It is understood the Knapp-Monarch people still have this city under consideration. There seems now no doubt that the plant will be moved from Belleville. It did not operate Tuesday, though a picket line of 2,000 workers reported in the morning. When they learned the plant would not operate that day, they dispersed, but went in groups to other plants in Belleville and induced the workers to come out in a sympathetic strike.

The Mohammedans considered coffee as intoxicating when it was introduced to them and it is still prohibited by the Koran.

Buzick of Monette, Ark., Mrs. Nina Waggoner Sherman and daughter of Kansas City, Mo., Misses Delta and Cornelia Everts of Virden, Mrs. Annette Rearick Lohman of Ashland, Miss Louise Gates of Toledo, O., Miss Helen Newell, Point Look Out, Mo.

SINCLAIR FOUR-H CLUB HOLDS MEET

The members of the Sinclair Four-H club held their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Betty Ann Curtis, with all members present. Virginia Martin presided.

During the business period, one new member was taken into the club. The members then cut out slips. A demonstration on seams and seam finishes was given by Ethel Baxter.

The group then joined in singing several songs, accompanied by the ukelin by Frances Shibe. Several games were conducted by the recreational chairman, Jeannette Rauscher.

At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess.

LONERGAN CHILD TO BE INTERRED IN CITY TODAY

Coroner E. O. Sample held an inquest at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning into the death of Laura Catherine Lonergan, 19-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lonergan, which occurred at 8:50 o'clock Tuesday night at the family home, 145 Pine street. The jury returned a verdict that the child came to her death from shock, caused by second degree burns on the face, right arm and side. The inquest was held at the residence.

The mother of the child testified that about 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon she heard the child scream upstairs. She went to her assistance and found that the baby's dress was on fire. It is thought she had obtained matches and set herself on fire, but the real origin of the fatal accident is uncertain.

The jury of inquest consisted of Charles H. Story, foreman, Clifton Corrington, John Sutter, Fred Drake, M. J. Donahoe and W. D. Kennedy.

The child is survived by her parents and the following sisters and brother: Margaret Ann, Sara Elizabeth, Mary Jane and Walter David. She was a great favorite in her neighborhood, and her parents have the sympathy of their many friends.

Burial will be from the Church of Our Saviour, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Nature puts a seal around each coffee bean. But when coffee is roasted each bean expands and breaks this seal, allowing some of the goodness to escape—unless the coffee is quickly sealed in air-tight tins as is America's Cup.

CASS ATTORNEY TO OPEN OFFICE HERE

Attorney Myron E. Mills, former Jacksonville man, and for the past twelve years practicing at the Cass county bar, announced yesterday the establishment of a law office in the Professional building, here, June first.

Mr. Mills served two terms as state's attorney of Cass county. He entered the office in 1924, was re-elected in 1928, and retired to private practice in 1932. He was not a candidate for third term. While prosecutor, he held important offices in the Illinois State's Attorneys' Association, serving as its president in 1930-1931. He is prominent in Republican party affairs and was elected State Central Committeeman for the 20th Congressional District at the April Primaries this year. Since 1924 he has maintained partnership offices with his brother, Epler C. Mills, former State Senator, at Virginia and Beardstown.

In addition to becoming a member of the Morgan County Bar, Attorney Mills is identified with the Congregational church, Masonic and Elks' lodges, and The American Legion. In the World War he served in Naval Aviation and was commissioned an ensign and licensed pilot.

Mr. Mills received his legal education at Chicago-Kent College of Law. Before entering law school he attended the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois. He is a nephew of the late Cyrus Epler, Circuit Judge, Morgan County, and son of the late Richard W. Mills, Jacksonville lawyer and Trustee of Illinois College. Mr. and Mrs. Mills and three [illegible] are to reside in Jacksonville soon.

Chapin Christian Ch. Notes

The union Memorial service was held this year at the M. P. church, and was well attended. This is the sixth memorial address the writer has delivered in Chapin, and the first one without a veteran of "the sixties." The roster was read by James Wallace, the son of the only remaining veteran who enlisted at Bethel, Morgan County, Ill., in 1862; Robert Wallace, familiarly known as "Uncle Bob" who passed to his reward during the past year.

The baccalaureate address was delivered at the Christian church by Brother Herbert in the evening, and it was a master-piece. There were twelve graduates from the Chapin High School this year, who looked supremely happy.

The "Class Day" will be held at the Chapin Grade School Tuesday, May 29, and commencement will be held at the M. P. church Thursday evening, May 31.

Thursday the "Pastoral Helpers" will hold their monthly meeting at Mrs. Fisher's, with Mrs. Opal Brewer, assistant hostess. The L.A.S. will also meet that day at the church.

Mrs. Edna Woodward is preparing a program for "Children's Day," Sunday, June 3rd. There will be the usual gospel sermon Sunday morning, with all the regular services.

Please don't forget the observance of "Decoration Day" at the Chapin Cemetery, at two o'clock, p. m., Wednesday, May 30, by the Meredosia Post of the American Legion.

Mrs. Shamel Directs School at State Fair

Many women in Jacksonville and Morgan county will be interested in the announcement of Mrs. Anita Shamel, director of the State Fair schools, that the Illinois Fair School of Domestic Science will hold its thirty-sixth term, August 10-24, in the new Woman's building, erected in recognition of the Womanhood of Illinois and dedicated to the cause of Homemaking and Motherhood. There never was a time in the history of our nation when we needed real Womanhood as we do today.

In appr ation of this wonderful building, each county is to be represented by a large number at this school. The age limit is 18-35.

Due to economic stress the tuition fee is reduced to simply take care of board and lodging. Through the courtesy of the State Fair, the schools attend the Horse Show, Centennial building, supreme court building; make pilgrimages shopping, picnics to the park, and attend the movies.

The twelve students ranking highest in their general average will be returned to the school the following year with their expenses paid as general assistants.

This is a wonderful opportunity for study and advancement and as a suggestion, three or four clubs could cooperate in driving cars and share expenses on transportation. The cars will be housed free while at the school. Applications should be in by July 20.

Club women of Jacksonville and vicinity will remember Mrs. Anita Shamel as secretary of the Household Science department of the Illinois Farmers Institute which held its State Conference in this city last fall, through whose efforts many splendid programs were arranged.

June 1 Deadline on First Half of Tax

Friday, June 1, is the last day on which the personal property tax bill and the first installment on real estate may be paid without a penalty, according to law.

The nearness of the deadline has caused a noticeable pickup in tax paying at the office of Sheriff and Ex-Officio Collector Blackburn during the last few days. Thursday probably will be another busy day or the collector's office.

May 1st was the original date set as a deadline for the payment of the personal taxes and 50 per cent of the real estate taxes, but the legislature of the state extended this time one month to June 1. Prior to that action by the legislature the office of the tax collector was extremely busy as tax payers made an effort to avoid penalty. When the date was extended the business in the tax collector's office slowed up a bit.

Blueboys Clinch Second Place In Little 19

Davis Ties Strike Out Record With 18 as Illinois Downs Normal in Tight Game 6 to 3

Illinois College, last year's champions, came up with second place in the Little 19 conference yesterday when they turned back the only team between them and the coveted position in a tense and exciting baseball game that didn't hold much cheer for the locals until the eighth inning. Then the Blueboys got to "Pim" Goff and with some excellent baseball shoved over four runs, enough to win the game and let the team and followers enjoy Russell Davis' Illinois record tying performance of 18 strike-outs. Mead, of Wesleyan, holds the conference record with 20 strike-outs, but Davis' performance equalled the best Floyd Newkirk., now with the Newark Bears in the International league, was able to do while he was flinging in the college ranks.

Goff, State's ace hurler, held the Blueboys in check until the sixth inning, when Kenneth Woods hoisted one of Goff's balloon pitches over the left field canvas for Illinois' first run, after the Blueboys had presented the Redbirds with a tally in the third, and saw the Birdies get a pair more in their half of the sixth.

Woods' homer, coming with the bases empty, seemed to set off the fireworks, for Illinois came back in the seventh to get another run, and then jumped on Goff for four runs in an eighth inning rally that will go down in the books as almost as sensational as the nine run rally Illinois staged a few years ago to beat Millikin in the ninth inning.

Illinois had a hard time getting started against Goff, things seeming to break the wrong way during the opening five innings. Goff allowed only three hits in those rounds, but he gave up six more as the Blueboys cut loose against his offerings in the final three frames.

Normal, on the other hand, got a run almost as an outright gift in the third when Goff took first when Kline threw wildly to first to catch him, Goff going on to second. He advanced to third on a passed ball, and after Davis had fanned two men, Kuhfuss shot a rolling double down the first base line, scoring Goff.

Again in the sixth the Blueboys got gratuitous, after two men were down. Jacobson got a triple into one of the lighting towers in right center field, and scored when Reay tried to throw out Jacobson at third, and threw the ball away. The Birdies got another run before the side was retired, Gelsimino singling through second, White walking, and Jacquat singling to score Gelsimino. Goff got hit with a pitch to fill the bases, but Davis tightened up and struck out Rodeghiro to end the inning.

Tom "Tiger" Kline, who has been threatening to come through with base hits for a long time, finally cracked loose yesterday in a big way. He doubled to right in the second inning and was left on base. He rolled out in fifth, doubled to left in the seventh and raced home after Pitcher Davis banged out a single to right field with two down and two on. Kline's third hit, another double, came in the eighth inning, and set the stage for the big finish.

Jack Taylor opened the eighth with a roller to the short stop, Taylor beating the throw to first by a couple winks, but no more. He went to second on a wild pitch, and stole third, Winn striking out in the meantime. Pacotti's double down the left field foul line sent him home with the tying run. Colin walked and with two men on Kline banged his third double, scoring Pacotti. Eddie Reay laid down a perfect bunt, to score Colin, and Reay made first without a play, Kline moving up to third. Watts sacrificed with another bunt in front of the plate, scoring Kline with the fourth run of the frame, Goff throwing out Watts at first while Kline raced home.

What looked like a bad situation in the first half of the ninth proved to be nothing more than just appearances. Rodeghiro, first man up, was hit with a pitched ball. Alfeld struck out, and Kuhfuss pounded a double into right field, moving Rodeghiro to third. Grimes fanned, and Davis went to work on Jacobson, fanning him with five pitches to complete the record of 18 strike-outs.

Illinois won seven games and lost two in conference play to wind up in second place. North Central has been unofficially declared the champion with six wins against no losses. Illinois defeated Western Teachers and Monmouth twice each, and won single games from State Normal, Eastern Teachers and Illinois Wesleyan. State Normal and Eastern Normal were the only conference teams to win from the Blueboys during the season.

CARDS TAKE TWIN BILL FROM REDS

Cincinnati, May 30.—(AP)—Battering Red pitchers unfeelingly and taking every advantage of bad fielding by the opposition, the St. Louis Cardinals today took a holiday double-header from the Cincinnati Reds, 9-6 and 9-2.

Two Red newcomers missed golden chances in the contests. Fanning in the fourth inning of the first game with the bases loaded, Harlin Pool in his debut let slip a chance that might have meant victory. Likewise making his debut in the second game, Tony Freitas yielded 14 hits to the Cards five of them to Medwick, and two of those for three bases.

Delancey provided the fireworks of the first contest, banging two singles ,a triple and a home run.

GIANTS TAKE 2 FROM DODGERS

Brooklyn, May 30.—(AP)—Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a ball game in Ebbets field, the New York Giants today won both ends of a holiday doubleheader from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Forty-two thousand fans watched southpaw Watson Clark go the full route this season to give the Giants a 5 to 2 victory in the first game against Van Lingle Mungo, the Dodger's mound ace, whose four game winning streak was abruptly terminated. The Giants hit four Brooklyn pitchers hard to take the night cap 8 to 6.

Jimmy Bucher, the Dodger's young second sacker, sprained his ankle in the first game and Al Lopez was drafted from behind the plate to play in Bucher'splace. In the second game, when the use of pinch hitters left manager Casey Stengel without a catcher, Lopez returned to his regular post and Joe Stripp, who fractured his ankle a month ago, hobbled around the infield for an inning.

Herman Bell took the mound for the Giants in the seventh after Joe Bowman and lefty Al Smith were removed in that order. Hack Wilson provided the Dodger fans with their big thrill with a homer in the second game.

FRANK ORMONT WINS FEATURE

Washington Park, Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Long shot players reaped a harvest in the feature race at Washington Park today as Frank Ormont, flying the silks of W. F. Axton of Louisville, raced to victory in the Robert M. Sweitzer handicap. The winner paid $50.62 to win in the mutuels as the W. C. Stroube entry of Clarify and Blessed Event finished out of the money.

Navanod from the Brentwood Stables finished second, a nose behind the winner with Ebony Lady third. The winner's time for the mile and an eighth route was 1:53.

After considerable crowding at the club house turn, shuffling Clarify back to fourth, Frank Ormont overtook Ebony Lady and Ashen and then withstood a spirited challenge by Navanod at the finish. Jockey Teddy King, aboard the winner, rode a perfect race.

Chicago Cubs Take Both Ends Of Double Header From Pirates Before 40,000 Overflow Crowd

Chicago, Ill., May 30—(AP)—The Cubs returned from their disastrous road trip to treat an overflow crowd of 40,000 fans to a double-header victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today, taking the second game, 5 to 4, in 11 innings after capturing the opener, 7 to 2, in regulation time.

A pass to pinch batter Billy Herman by Larry French with the bases filled and two out in the 11th decided the night cap. Chuck Klein's 13th home run and Gabby Hartnett's ninth aided Lon Warneke in turning in his season's sixth victory in the opener.

French, fourth Pittsburgh pitcher, and Charley Root, third Cub hurler, battled through four tense innings in which each repeatedly worked himself out of jams before the former yielded in the second game. After Gus Suhr, who scored the first two Buc runs with a double in the sixth; singled to tie the score in the eighth and drive Roy Joiner from the mound. Root stopped the rally, fanning Harry Lavagetto with the bases loaded in the ninth and also shut out the Bucs in the next two frames. French took up the Pittsburgh pitching in the eighth after Leon Chagnon, who had succeeded Smith and Hoyt, retired for a pinch-hitter. Stan Hack opened the 11th by singling off Vaughan's glove. English popped out in trying to sacrifice, but Riggs Stephenson, who had replaced Klein after the latter had pulled up with a charley horse in the third inning, drove Hack to third with a single to right. Tucker Stainback was intentionally passed. Manager Charlie Grimm beckoned Billy Herman to bat for him. Herman, making his first appearance since injuring a foot in sliding into the plate May 12, waited out a three and two count, fouled off two good ones and then walked.

The Cubs played with a revamped infield, English playing second base for the first time in his career.

BRAVES TROUNCE PHILLIES TWICE

Boston, May 30.—(AP)—A holiday crowd of 25,000 today watched the Boston Braves stretch their winning streak to give games by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Phillies, 10-4 and 5-1.

The Tribesmen belted three enemy hurlers for a grand total of 15 hits to capture the opener, while long hitting by Wally Berger and Randy Moore, each of whom got a homer, and Baxter Jordan, accounted for the second triumph.

A six-run rally off Austin Moore and the relieving Roy Hansen clinched the game in the second inning of the opener. Ed "Lefty" Brandt opened for the Tribesmen and, after pitching to nine Philadelphians, was forced to retire in the third frame with a pulled muscle in his pitching arm. Although Bob Smith did the bulk of the work, Brandt was credited with the win.

RED SOX DIVIDE WITH ATHLETICS

Phildelphia, May 30.—(AP)—The Athletics and Boston Red Sox divided the holiday bill today, the Mackmen winning the morning game 5 to 3 to break their losing streak of four straight, and then dropping the afternoon affair 2 to 1 behind Dusty Rhodes' five hit pitching.

Charley Berry collaborated with Al Benton in the morning engagement. Driving in four runs all told, Berry broke a 3 to 3 tie with a single that scored McNair in the eighth inning. Benton drove in the second run of the frame by singling.

Rhodes opposed by Joe Cascarella, in the hard-fought second game, blanked the Athletics after Rabbit Warstler led off in the first inning with a home run. Boston won out in the sixth when Morgan banged a two-bagger that scored Werber.

Wes Ferrell made his first appearance in a Boston uniform by going to Ostermueller's relief in the eighth inning of the morning game. His brother, Rick, caught him.

Two home runs by Charley Gehringer and another by Hank Greenberg featured the Tigers attack in the opener. Although touched for 12 hits, Tommy Bridges went the route for the Tigers.

YANKS SPLIT TWIN BILL WITH NATS

New York, May 30.—(AP)—The New York Yankees and the Washington Senators divided a twin bill today before 70,000 holiday fans in games featured by the pitching of the Senator's southpaw ace, Earl Whitehill, who held the Yanks hitless for eight and one-third innings of the first encounter until he was knocked for a single by Ben Chapman.

After passing Lou Gehrig and being hit for a sharp single to left field by Chapman, Whitehill was yanked by Manager Joe Cronin amid a tremendous roar of protest from the fans, who gave the crestfallen pitcher a great ovation as he walked from the mound to the dugout.

Whitehill, however, received credit for the 1 to 0 victory as his successor, Jack Russell, retired Tony Lazzeri and got the last man on a force-out with Bill Dickey batting. Vernon Gomez, on the mound for the Yankees, consequently suffered his first defeat of the season after winning seven consecutive games.

Whitehill's performance was the nearest thing to a no-hit game pitched so far in the American division this year and marked the Yankees' first shutout since Bob Grove, then with the Athletics, blanked them last August 3. The Yankees have been white-washed only twice since 1931 and the last time they were victims of a non-hit game was in 1919 when Ray Caldwell did the job.

The only run of the game came in the eighth inning, produced from Bluege's walk, Myer's sacrifice bunt, on which Saltzgaver threw too late to get the runner, Manush's sacrifice, a pass to Cronin and Schulte's single to left.

Lazzeri broke up the second game in the 11th inning to give the Yanks a 5 to 4 victory. With the score tied, Tony banged out a single with the bases loaded and one out to end the ball game.

The Veteran Spitballer Burleigh Grimes was credited with the win. Making his first appearance in the American League, the grizzly Grimes took the slab in the eighth, allowing three hits and striking out three batters.

Home Town Boy Flashes Over Finishing Line 27 Seconds Ahead of Rose; Breaks Record

By Charles Dunkley,
Associated Press Sprots Writer.

Speedway, Indianapolis, May 30.—(AP)—A home town boy, who runs a small night club and rides a motorcycle because he likes its noise, rode to glorious victory in the 500-mile automobile race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today with record breaking speed.

One hundred and thirty-five thousand spectators sat under a scorching sun to give thunderous salute to Wild Bill Cummings, 28 year old Indianapolis driver, as he triumphed over Mauri Rose of Dayton, O., in a dramatic, thrilling finish, with only 27 seconds separating them.

Never worse than fourth, and coming from behind in the last 75 miles, Cummings conquered Rose by about a mile, with Lou Moore of Los Angeles, finishing third, seven miles and a half behind the winner.

Driving every inch of the way without relief, Cummings piloted his 4-cylinder little racer, painted a light cream color with a big yellow No. 7 on the rear and engine hood, over the perilous 500 miles in 5:46:05.21, to average 104.865 miles an hour, breaking the record of 104.162 miles an hour hung up by Louis Meyer of South Gate, Calif., in winning the 1933 race.

By his victory, Cummings, who has been driving racing cars for eight years, earned about $40,000, $20,000 of which he received as first prize for today's triumph. He won $1,525 in lap prizes; that is, sums of $50 to $100 for each lap led the field.

Perhaps the most gratifying record breaking to speedway officials was the fact that today's bloodless race resulted in no deaths or serious injuries, although there were three smashups, all of a minor character. The most serious injury was sustained by George Bailey of Detroit, who received a broken wrist when his car went over the wall after travelling 30 miles. The car hit the retaining wall on the north end of the track, bounced to the top and then dropped to the ground, but Bailey and his mechanic miraculously escaped death or serious injury.

When Cummings, his face wreathed in smiles, hammered his car across the finish line to the salute of cheers breaking in his ears, he proclaimed himself the happiest man in the world.

"I always wanted to win this Indianapolis race and today my ambition has been achieved," he said.

The first person to greet him as a winner was his mother, who kissed him tenderly and told him how happy she was.

Between the crush of reporters and photographers, Cummings was finally pushed into the garage area and a shout went up: "Here's your wife." The pushing stopped and the attractive Mrs. Cummings kissed her victorious husband and helped him push his car into the garage. So heavy was the crush at the garage that National Guardsmen were called to keep out the crowd.

Cummings, after stretching himself, first requested a cigaret and then a big bottle of beer. He reached for the beer before he said a word.

With a scorching sun beating down on the track, 33 machines were sent away to a perfect start promptly at ten o'clock, but one by one they failed to survive the punishing test until 20 of them had dropped out, either because of minor accidents or motor trouble. Only 13 finished. Among the early victims of motor trouble was Louis Meyer of South Gate, Calif., who had previously won the race in 1928 and 1933. He was forced to surrender today after traveling 240 miles, due to trouble with his oil line.

The race, almost from the start, was a nip and tuck affair, with Frank Brisko of Milwaukee first leading and Rose coming up and finally Cummings taking complete command at 450 miles. At no time in the race was Rose worse than third. His defeat was heart breaking, because he had assumed the lead at 250 miles and held it until the 300 mile mark had been passed, when Cummings overtook him.

Leon Durey, Los Angeles, owner of the car Rose drove, lodged official protest with race officials tonight, claiming that Cummings, in violation of the rules had gained about three-fourths of a lap during a period when the drivers had been commanded to slow down while wrecked automobiles were removed from the course. The protest will be acted on tomorrow.

The three drivers whose cars were wrecked in smashes in making the dangerous curves were Chet Miller of Detroit, George (Doc) McKenzie of Edington, Pa., and Bailey. Luckily all escaped injury but Bailey.

In the 22 years' history of the race, today's finish was the closest of all. Cummings and Rose were in a hub to hub thriller as they flashed across the 450-mile mark, with less than 100 yards separating them as they sped up the average to a new track record of 105.021 miles per hour.

Ralph Hepburn of Los Angeles, who had been challenging as a contender while tearing along in third place, was forced to drop out because of a broken connecting rod and Moore moved into third place, two laps behind Cummings and Rose. William (Deacon) Litz of Dubois, Pa., was fourth, trailing about 15 miles back and Joe Russo of Kenosha, Wis., in sixth place, was twenty miles back of the flying leaders. The others were strung out miles back, with the one surviving oil burner piloted by William (Stubby) Stubblefield of Los Angeles, came struggling along to the finish.

As Rose and Cummings swung into the last 25 miles, the immense crowd jumped to its feet and cut loose with a throaty cheer before the ultimate crowning of a new speed champion. Cummings was steadily increasing his lead with Rose in desperate pursuit. The spectators sensed that Cummings was the winner in the last lap of the race and gave him a mighty cheer as he sped on to victory.

MAC'S CLOTHIERS NIP REDLEGS 7 TO 6 DESPITE HITTING

Sporer Allows But Eight Hits While State Hospital Collects 14. But Clothiers Get Them When They Count.

Mac's Clothiers, from Beardstown, got hits when they counted yesterday, and brought all but three of their boys who were able to get on base back home, to beat the Jacksonville State Hospital Redlegs in the annual Decoration Day game 7-6. Bill Sporer, Redleg hurler, allowed eight hits, while his mates collected 14.

The Redlegs got away in front after two innings, Beeley rapping a homer in the first inning, and Clark scoring in the second of Keithley's first double, after Beardstown had scored a pair in the first on a hit batsman, a fielder's choice, and Edwards' single. In the third, Buban tripled and scored on Gidcomb's double.

The Clothiers forged ahead again in the fourth with three runs after two were down, Connor's single after Hager got on through a fielder's choice, and Ferguson and Brockschmidt had drawn walks, scoring two runs. Another run came in before the side was retired. The Redlegs got one in their half of the fourth on Henry's single and Keithley's double, and went ahead again in the fifth on Kalvin's homer, Clarke's single and Keithley's second double.

The game tightened up at this stage, the Clothiers putting across the winning tallies in the eighth. Beemer walked two men and went out, and then Hager singled and Crane, pinch hitting for Ferguson, doubled. The Redlegs had the tying run on base when Sporer singled, but the run was cut off at the plate on a throw from left field.

The Italian-Americans of the Springfield Municipal league, will meet the Redlegs Saturday afternoon.

White Sox and Indians Fight 21-Innings in Double-Header And Finally Divide Honors

Cleveland, May 30.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians worked for 21 innings in a double header today to increase their lead at the head of the American League, but the best they could do was to split two games with the Chicago White Sox, losing the first 8 to 7 and winning the second 5 to 4.

It was the towering Hal Trosky, Indian first baseman, who put on the big show of the day. In three times at bat in the second game, Trosky lifted the ball over the right field wall for three home runs, almost winning the game single-handed.

Trosky's home runs came in the fourth, sixth and eighth innings. He scored one man ahead of him in the fourth, but the bases were empty on the two succeeding blows.

In the first game, Hale, Indian second baseman, connected for two home runs.

PINEY WOODS TO PLAY BEARDSTOWN

Beardstown, May 30.—(Special)—The Mac's Clothiers of this city will entertain the Giant Collegians, a very fast colored ball club which hails from Piney Woods, Mississippi in a game to be played here this Friday afternoon at Sportsmans Park, the game being scheduled to start at 4:30. The Collegians, who are just as good at comics as they are at playing baseball, boast a record of having played 169 games while touring the country in 1932, and were victorious in winning 148 of them, while losing and tying the remaining 21. Manager Gus Campbell has high hopes of being honored by sending the Giants on their way with a defeat by his Clothiers.

Monmouth, Ill., May 30.—(AP)—Home runs by Lahey and Handley in the tenth inning gave Bradley Tech of Peoria a 6 to 4 victory over Monmouth's baseball team today. Monmouth had frequent opportunities to win the game in regulation time only to miss them by poor base running. Score:

WOODS MAKES ONE CHANGE IN BOXER LINE-UP FOR MEET

Al Cole, 1933 Bantamweight Champion From Springfield To Meet Quincy Lightweight In Bout Here Friday Night.

Jacksonville team of amateur boxers is ready for the invasion of the Quincy Golden Gloves champions, Guy Woods, matchmaker of the policeman's benefit bouts to be held Friday night in the Greek Theater announced last night. One change has been made to strengthen the Jacksonville team for the meet, he said.

Al Cole, who won the 1933 bantamweight championship in the Springfield Golden Gloves title, but who has put on some weight since that time, will meet Frank Cooley, 1934 featherweight Golden Gloves champion from the Quincy district. Cole was unable to make the bantamweight after winning the title in the Springfield district, and the Springfield team had to go to Chicago without a bantam that year.

Six of the eight fighters Quincy will send here won championships in their respective classes during the last tournament, Manager Woods said. Edward Weichman, lightheavyweight who is booked to meet Tom Sutherland, Springfield light heavy champ in 1933, Con Koyer, middleweight who will fight Clarence Robinson, local lad; George Davin who will meet Garland Parnell, Springfield welter champ; Frank Cooley, Bert Ellis, bantam who will meet Willie Barber, Springfield's bantam titleholder this year, and Kenneth Bell, flyweight fighter who will take on Floyd Mason, another Jacksonville amateur.

Abe Feduris, 250 pound heavyweight who heads the Jacksonville team, will meet Harold Laws, 195 pounder in the feature bout of the evening. Feduris, who plays tackle on the Illinois College football team, and who is a shot putter and discus thrower on the track and field team, won the 1934 heavyweight title at the Springfield tournament, but was not permitted to fight in Chicago because of a damaged eye. Feduris has been in strict training all spring for track at the college, and appeared to be in the pink during his recent boxing workouts.

Rodney Weinand is the other member of the Quincy team who did not win a title in the tournament this past winter, but he copped off the lightweight crown in 1933. He will meet Eddie Shea, winner of the Springfield title this year.

IN JUSTICE COURT

After crashing into a light post at the corner of Hardin and East Morton avenue, William Thomas Waugh, of Pleasant Hill pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $15 and costs at a hearing held at the city police station by Justice C. S. Smith late yesterday afternoon. Waugh was arrested by Traffic Officer Guy Woods.

Waugh, who police said admitted he was driving about 55 miles an hour when he came up the hill entering Jacksonville from the east, said he crashed into the pole to avoid striking another automobile which pulled onto the state highway from Hardin avenue.

"The governor is resting quietly, but if anything his condition is a little weaker," said Dr. Scanland, adding that the California chief executive drank a little orange juice containing albumen.

ARREST YOUTH AFTER ALLEGED GAS THEFT

Springfield, May 30.—Samuel Duncan, 17, of Amarillo, Tex., who stopped and submitted to arrest after State Policeman John Martin fired a shot at him at the junction of the St. Louis and Jacksonville hard roads, was held in the city prison today for federal authorities. Police said charges of Dyer Act violation would probably be placed against Duncan.

Police said that Duncan admitted stealing the Plymouth coupe which he drove, in his home town. He also admitted police said, that he had stolen gasoline throughout his trip from Amarillo.

It was for his alleged gasoline stealing that he was apprehended. John Wiegland, service station proprietor at Alexander, telephoned state police last night that the youth had ordered 24 gallons of gasoline in the auto tank and auxiliary cans, and had driven away without paying for it. Marrin guarded the roads and fired when Duncan ignored his command to halt. Duncan was slightly injured on the left wrist by a piece of lead bullet which had crashed through the rear window and spattered against the shatter proof glass in the windshield.

FLYERS CLAIM AIRPLANE WAS TAMPERED WITH

Captain George Pond Says Engine Trouble May Have Cost Him His Life

London, May 30.—(AP)—Sabotage in the United States was blamed today by Captain George Pond for engine trouble which imperilled the lives of himself and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli in their flight across the Atlantic ocean.

"We have evidence of three types of tampering with our plane," he said. "There were strips of cardboard in the oil tank and a fin 'filter cap' in the oil line. The main feed line from the rear of the gas tank was definitely shut off and the water canteens, one of which I filled myself, were emptied."

Captain Pond said an effort will be made to find the guilty persons when he and his companion return to New York.

(Officials at Floyd Bennett Field, New York, whence Pond and Sabelli hopped disclaimed knowledge of any tampering with the plane and said that at least half the time the machine was bein prepared for the projected flight to Rome it was elsewhere.)

"Fortunately," said Pond discussing his charges, "foreign articles in the oil tank line did not prevent oil getting through, though they may have restricted the flow somewhat. Tampering with a gas tank is most serious and could not possibly have happened accidentally."

He blamed the engine trouble for the forced landing near Lahinch, on the west coast of Ireland on May 15, saying there was gasoline enough to reach the original goal, Rome, or at least southern France.

The plane now is being thoroughly overhauled at Heston airport, near London, repairs made at Lahinch having failed to remove the trouble.

When the repair work is completed, the fliers intend to go on to Rome, and then expect to fly back to New York by way of Ireland.

GOVERNMENT OWES CITIZENS LOYALTY - SEARCY

State Senator is Speaker at Franklin Memorial Day Services

Franklin, May 30.—Paying high tribute to veterans of the civil war, and picturing present day problems as not unlike those of the sixties, State Senator Earl B. Searcy, of Springfield, in the annual Memorial Day address to a large assemblage of Morgan county citizens this afternoon, urged that government, as such, recognize it's duty toward a distressed citizenship in the same fashion that it exacts duties from those same citizens.

"Every good American will stand by the guns, ready to man them in mutual self-defense," declared Searcy. "Loyalty to hte President of the United States and to the great government he heads is a plain American requisite; but, by the same token, our President and our government owe it to supporting citizens to extend the same degree of loyalty. Public officials who do not devote themselves to the interests of citizens who pay the governmental bill through taxes are utterly unfit to rule.

"In our common distress, we are, of course, experimenting. An experimental era was, probably, inevitable. But, I cannot reconcile the wholesale destruction of food and food products with either the Holy Scriptures or economics—not when there are so many people who literally want for sufficient food in this country. May this wave of mistaken economics soon pass. Let our government go to the farmers and the producers of food stocks, buy those stocks at prices that will enable property owners to pay taxes and be good citizens; then, give them to men and women who cannot find work, until such time as employment comes back, and the circulation of money is restored.

"Union veterans fought to preserve this country intact from foreign and domestic annihilation, in the sixties. Our fight today is again for the preservation of an orderly, peaceful government; with a basic constitution as our guide, despite our long years of distress. Creation of new employment, to give men honorable work, is another crying need. In the process, let us distribute benefits more equitably, yet preserve the American form of government unchanged in so doing."

FEAR ATTACK ON EMPEROR KANG TEH

Shanghai, May 30—(AP)—Widespread discussion of the possibility that political enemies had attacked Emperor Kang Teh of Manchukuo with typhoid germs was heard in Shanghai today as Chinese reports that the ruler is seriously ill remained unconfirmed.

The Japanese legation discounted the reports, stating that its advices are that the Emperor, formerly Henry Pu-Yi, is in good health. Direct authentic information from the Japanese-sponsored empire was not available.

The Chinese dispatches related that after being stricken with typhoid, the emperor rejected western-trained physicians and called in a Chinese herb doctor, despite Japanese objections.

It was recalled here that the Japanese have guarded the emperor carefully in his capital, hsinking, and comment was to the effect that assassins might have attempted to take his life through the medium of germs.

Snakes Take To Hills; Riverman Sees Wet June

According to a man who resides in the bottoms along the Illinois river, June will be a wet month. He based his prediction on the fact that snakes are moving into higher ground along the river. The riverman said that reptiles always seek higher levels when heavy rains are approaching.

Many farmers in this vicinity will hope that the snakes are correct and that heavy rains are coming soon.

ARREST SUSPECT FOR MURDER OF TEXAS WOMAN

Man Being Held Declares He Is Not Person Being Sought By Police

Georgetown, British Guiana, May 30—(AP)—Police here tonight were making a careful check of the identity of a man who claims to be Robert Jones, but who is being held on suspicion that he is Arthur C. Wilson of Cleveland, wanted for the murder of a woman in Texas.

The man, employed as steward on the Canadian liner Lady Nelson, was taken from the ship here last night. He insisted that Jones is his correct name and that he was born in Toronto. He claims Montreal as his present home.

(At Halifax it was said that a Montreal address was given by Jones when he signed on in December 1933, but check at Montreal showed no residence at the street number given.)

Several points of disimilarity between the man held and descriptions of Wilson were pointed out by the steward's shipmates, who said that Jones is two and one half inches shorter than the height given for Wilson.

A magazine picture of the fugitive shows him to be fair, while Jones was described as dark and 50 pounds lighter than Wilson is supposed to be.

Another difference was said that Jones lacks a scar on the forehead.

El Paso, Tex., May 29—(AP)—Texas authorities moved quickly today to speed the extradition from Georgetown, British Guiana, of a man they believed to be Arthur C. Wilson, of Cleveland, charged with the murder of Mrs. Irene Debolt, wealthy Cleveland widow, near Van Horn, Texas, in November 1933.

The suspect, a steward on the Canadian liner Lady Nelson, was taken into custody on the arrival of the ship at Georgetown today. He was listed on the ship's roster as Robert Jones, 28, resident of Montreal, and a native of Toronto. The tip leading to the steward was given by a member of Mrs. Debolt's family, Sheriff C. P. Fox, of El Paso, said.

An international search was made for the slayer of Mrs. Debolt, following the discovery of her body, stripped of clothing, with a cord knotted about the neck, and the head battered on the desert nine miles east of Van Horn.

A scrap of paper bearing Wilson's name with a Cleveland address, and a bloodstained iron found in a tourist cabin at Pecos, Texas, led to Wilson's indictment on a charge of murder. The operator of the tourist camp said a man had stopped at the cabin the night Mrs. Debolt was slain.

YOUNG ASTOR TO WED

Dedham, Mass., May 30.—(AP)—John Jacob Astor, 3rd, visiting here at the Cherry Lane home of Francis O. French, said tonight he would be married during the early part of July to Miss Ellen Tuck French, 18-year-old daughter of his host.

Young Astor said the ceremony would take place at Newport, R. I., and that there would be no bridesmaids, but discussed the matter no further.

Miss French is the granddaughter of the late Amos Tuck French and the daughter of Mrs. Livingston French. Her parents were divorced several years ago.

The bride-to-be had been reported last winter as a probable bridesmaid of Miss Eileen Gillespie, New York debutante to whom Astor was engaged last November. The engagement was broken in January, however.

Texas has the largest number of counties of all the states in the Union.

I. C. Seniors Attend Last Chapel Today

The Seniors of Illinois college sang their swan song Wednesday morning at the annual class day observance. To the strains of the Centennial Hymn, the seniors marched in to take their places for the last time in chapel. Sam Pinson, senior class president, presided.

Helen Gosch, class historian, reviewed the four temptestous years which have finally culminated in their arrival at the last stage of the game. Erland Ericson, in a characteristic fashion, levelled his sarcasm at all the past and present of the college. Charlotte Sager read the last will and testament of the class in which every member left a remembrance for some unsuspecting underclassman or faculty.

President Pinson delivered the farewell address in which he expressed for the class appreciation for the opportunities which it has enjoyed. Erland Ericson served as general chairman of the class day activities.

In solemn lines, the seniors marched out to the farewell song which they had composed.

BALTIMORE HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

Baltimore, May 30.—(AP)—A five-alarm fire in an East Baltimore business block was brought under control shortly before midnight tonight but firemen experienced trouble in extinguishing the flames.

The blaze was confined to a five and ten cent store which spread thru two buildings on different streets and smoke filed adjacent stores. Because of the compact construction of the buildings, the firemen had to break into nearby stores and cross the roofs to reach the flames.

Twenty-five fire and truck companies of the city responded to the five alarms which were sounded in rapid succession. A holiday crowd of more than 5,000 persons jammed the streets, hampering the approach of the fire apparatus.

Fire officials said they were unable to estimate the damage.

Pact With Cuba to Ban Any U.S. Action

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—The senate foreign relations committee today voted quick approval to the new treaty with Cuba under which the United States renounces its right to intervene in the island republic's affairs.

Washington, May 30—(AP)—The new treaty with Cuba, cutting the apron strings that have tied the little republic to the United States for more than 30 years, moved swiftly today toward ratification.

A desire to avert anti-American terrorism in Cuba was credited for the unusual celerity with which the brief document was signed late yesterday by Secretary Hull and Cuba's ambassador, Manuel Marquez Sterling, and sped to the Senate with an accompanying message by President Roosevelt.

As the Senate's foreign relations committee met today to act, quick ratification, probably next week, was predicted, writing a new chapter in the president's "good neighbor" policy.

The new pact scraps the controversial agreement embodied in the Platt amendment, whereby the United States acquired the right to intervene with armed force to protect Cuban independence or American lives and property.

President Roosevelt's message to the Senate pointed out that the treaty also omits previous clauses involving the rights to participate "in the determination of such domestic policies of the Republic of Cuba as those relating to finance and to sanitation."

Havana, May 30.—Cuba's young republic, harassed for months by violence and dissention, rejoiced today that the Platt amendment is headed for the scrapheap.

A three-day celebration will be held when the United States Senate ratifies the new treaty which removes the shadow of American intervention.

For 33 years many Cubans have considered the amendment, written into the constitution when freedom was wrested from Spain with the aid of the United States, "a blot on our liberty."

ATTORNEYS TO STUDY PLAN FOR REWRITING STATE CONSTITUTION

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—(AP)—Illinois attorneys, holding their annual bar convention at Waukegan this week, will give major consideration to the proposed rewriting of the state constitution.

At a November referendum, the voters will decide whether the state constitutional convention will be called. It has been approved by the legislature.

Walter F. Dodd of Chicago, former Yale professor and former secretary of the legislative reference bureau at Springfield, will give the major address on the constitutional problem Saturday morning. Discussion will be led by Rep. Thomas P. Sinnett of Rock Island and George A. Barr of Joliet.

R. Allen Stephens of Springfield, secretary of the Illinois State Bar Association, said the revision of the state's basic law would be one of the most important topics to come before the organization's 58th annual meeting, which opens tomorrow and closes Saturday at the Lake County court house.

Also of prime importance is the discussion of a model criminal code, which has been proposed for Illinois. The legislature last year adopted a new civil practice act, completely revising the trial of non-criminal cases in Illinois courts. A movement has been under way to do the same for the criminal law.

James S. Baldwin of Decatur is scheduled to be elected president of the association, succeeding Floyd E. Thompson of Chicago, former chief justice of the Illinois supreme court.

CHECK FOREST FIRE

Saranac Lake, N. Y., May 30.—(AP)—A small army of fire fighters tonight succeeded in checking the worst forest blaze in New York state since 1914, saving two hamlets from which residents had prepared to flee with their belongings.

The burned area, officials declared, would not be more than 10,000 acres and probably would not be less than 8,000. They said the fire was seven miles long and two miles wide.

Six residents of Derrick and six families in Floood Wood were prepared to avacuate the villages.

QUINTUPLETS HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO LIVE DOCTOR SAYS

Babies Now Sixty Hours Old Are Gaining Weight Physician Claims

Corbeil, Ont., May 30.—(AP)—Already more than sixty hours old, the quintuplets who doubled the number of children in the Ernest Dionne family have a good chance to live, a physician announced tonight.

Although still far from strong—the heaviest weighed only 3 pounds 4 ounces at birth—Dr. A. R. Dafoe said they were gaining strength and with good care would continue to show improvement.

There seemed to be little doubt the five girls would receive good care. An old fashioned hot water incubator was on its way from Chicago, together with a quantity of human milk sent by air mail by the head of the Chicago City Medical Department.

The tiny babies are under the care of a graduate nurse, a practical nurse and two friends of the 24-year-old mother.

This morning the quintuplets were given names, Cecil, Yvonne, Marie, Emily and Annette. They had to be tagged so they could be told apart. No one knows which was the first born or the order in which the others arrived. They were not tagged after birth, and when someone thought of doing it they were all in the same basket and no one could tell them apart.

The babies continued to accept milk, corn syrup and water through an eye dropper, and it was a full time job for one of the attendants. It takes so long to feed them that when the last has finished, the first is hungry again.

Dr. Dafoe said an effort was being made to have young neighborhood mothers feed the Dionne babies. He said he believed they would gain strength sooner with natural feeding.

Miss Yvonne Leroux, graduate nurse after whom one of the infants was named, said the babies had not been weighed since birth because it was thought best not to handle them more than necessary.

The horse served on the fire department from 1910 until 1923.

In consideration of his ripe age of 30 years, Pat was transported by truck between the line of march and his pasture.

OBITUARY

Salyers

John Andrew Salyers, prominent retired farmer of Monticello, died in Our Saviour's hospital at Jacksonville Monday at 12:30 a. m. His death was due to complications.

Mr. Salyers came to Jacksonville five weeks ago to visit his sister, Mrs. Lottie A. Robison. He became ill about three weeks ago and was taken to the hospital.

The deceased was born near Lexington, Fayette county, Kentucky, Oct. 30, 1848. In 1863 he came with his parents to Morgan county in Illinois. He has been a resident of Piatt county since 1869. Feb. 15, 1871, he was married to Miss Letitia Robinson in Morgan county. She preceded him in death in 1926.

Mr. Salyers leaves four children: Harry and Rolland of Monticello; Dr. J. O. Salyers of Hazard, Kentucky and Mrs. Bertha Ayer of Champaign. The one sister, Mrs. Robison, also survives.

Funeral services were conducted in the home at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Rev. F. E. Vernon of Effingham officiated. Interment was made in the Monticello cemetery.

LUCKY MOVE

Tacoma, Wash., May 30.—(AP)—Adolph Kienzi was sitting in his truck in front of the postoffice today when he heard the siren of a fire engine. He acted on a hunch to drive his truck away and a few seconds later the seven-ton fire truck skidded where Kienzi had been parked, sheared off a light pole and overturned on the postoffice lawn. The two firemen on the truck escaped serious injury.

HEAT RECORD BROKEN

Quincy, Ill., May 30.—(AP)—Heat records for May were shattered today when the thermometer reached 103 degrees at three o'clock. At five o'clock the temperature had cooled to 99 degrees.

CORDS WITHDRAW FROM CLASSES

Delafield, Wis., May 30.—(AP)—Authorities at St. John's military academy here tonight said that E. L. Cord the motor magnate, withdrew his two sons from classes here because of threats from kidnapers.

An official of the school said the boys were on Easter vacation at the time the threats were received and that an armed guard came from California with them to protect them while they removed their belongings from the academy.

The officer explaining the youths' departure said special outing trips and overnight camps by cadets might have afforded kidnapers an "excellent opportunity" to carry out their threats.

"It would have been impossible for us to have kept the students under constant armed guards as was posted at Mr. Cord's home," the officer pointed out.

"A great responsibility would have been placed on the school to have them left here. After the threats had been received and officials here agreed with Mr. Cord that it was advisable to remove them," the officer said.

PILOT KILLED

Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Edward Weatherdon, Chicago, chief pilot for American airways, was killed and Edward Preston, Oak Park, an aviator for the same concern, was probably fatally injured when their plane crashed near Hodgkins west of here late today.

Preston was being taught to fly "blind" in a company plane. Witnesses reported the plane evidently got out of control and went into a nose dive at about 800 feet.

Both were unconscious when removed from the wreckage, and Weatherdon was pronounced dead when taken to a doctor's office. Preston was removed to a hospital where he was said to have slight chance of surviving. He suffered a fractured skull and other severe injuries.

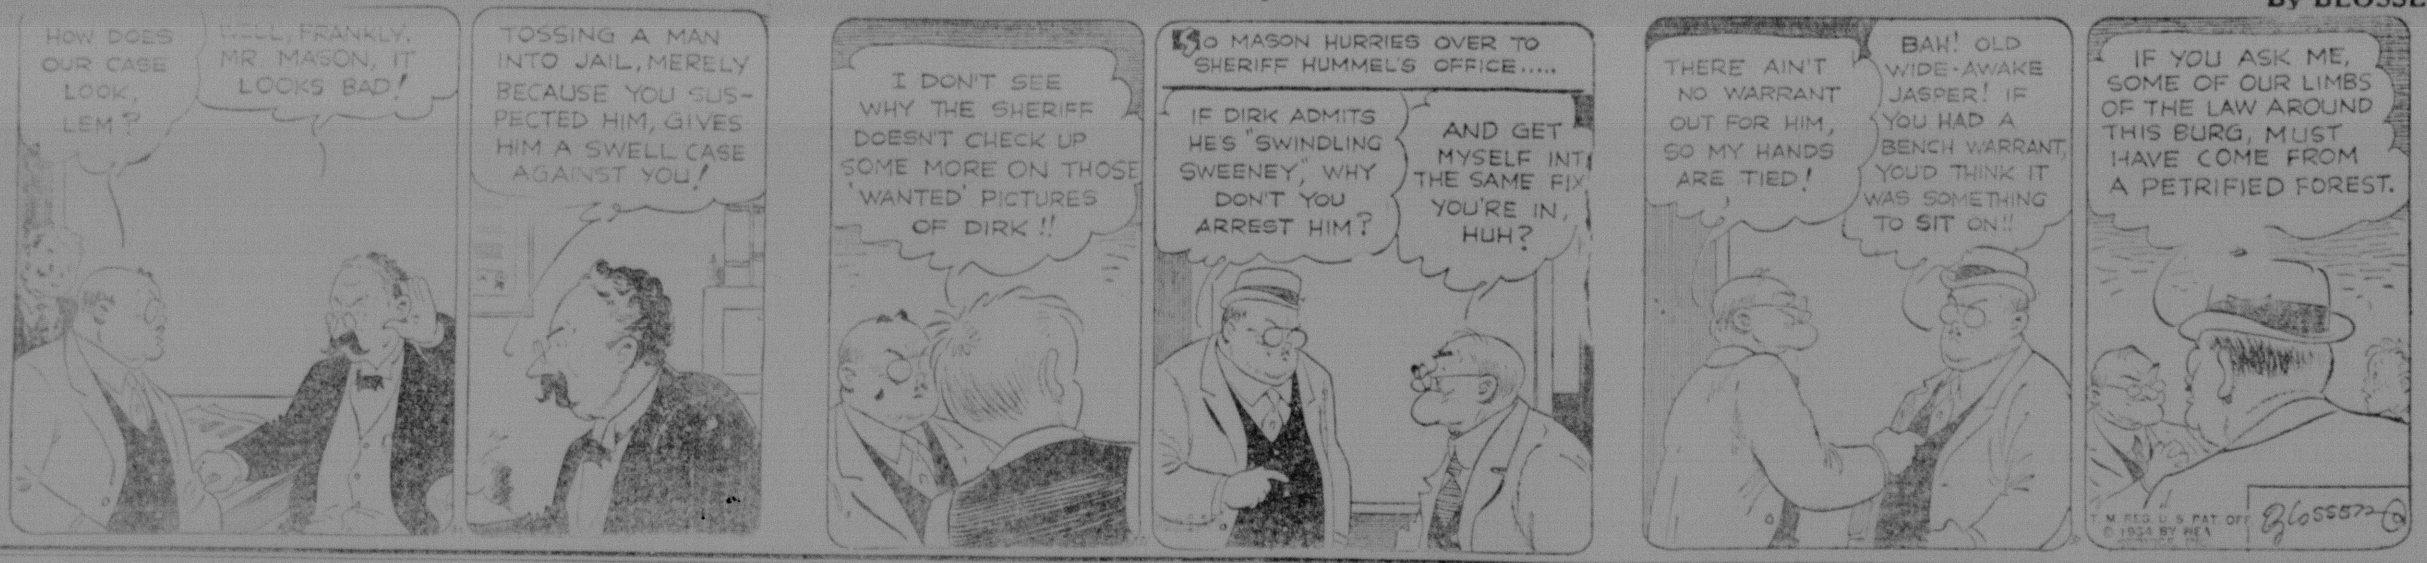
FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Burned Up!

By BLOSSER



HOW DOES OUR CASE LOOK, LEM?
WELL, FRANKLY, MR. MASON, IT LOOKS BAD!
TOSSING A MAN INTO JAIL, MERELY BECAUSE YOU SUSPECTED HIM, GIVES HIM A SWELL CASE AGAINST YOU!
I DON'T SEE WHY THE SHERIFF DOESN'T CHECK UP SOME MORE ON THOSE 'WANTED' PICTURES OF DIRK!!
SO MASON HURRIES OVER TO SHERIFF HUMMEL'S OFFICE.....
IF DIRK ADMITS HE'S "SWINDLING SWEENEY," WHY DON'T YOU ARREST HIM?
AND GET MYSELF INTO THE SAME FIX YOU'RE IN, HUH?
THERE AIN'T NO WARRANT OUT FOR HIM, SO MY HANDS ARE TIED!
BAH! OLD WIDE-AWAKE JASPER! IF YOU HAD A BENCH WARRANT, YOU'D THINK IT WAS SOMETHING TO SIT ON!!
IF YOU ASK ME, SOME OF OUR LIMBS OF THE LAW AROUND THIS BURG, MUST HAVE COME FROM A PETRIFIED FOREST.

THE THING FOR US TO DO, PODNER, IS TO FIND OUT WHO THE OLD MAN'S BLONDE IS.
YEH.
BUM! BUM! BOOM!
SUDDENLY, THEY ARE STARTLED BY THREE MUFFLED EXPLOSIONS FROM WITHIN THE BANK.
THEY ARE ABOUT TO INVESTIGATE, WHEN ONE OF THE WELL-DRESSED YOUNG MEN----

MEMORIAL DAY IS MARKED HERE BY PARADE, RITES

American Legion Trophy Cup Goes to Boy Scout Troop Number Two

Jacksonville marked Memorial day impressively with a parade Wednesday morning of patriotic organizations, and the decoration of veterans' graves in all of the cemeteries. Business houses remained closed throughout the day in memory of the nation's soldiers and sailor dead, while many flags were displayed in the business and residence districts.

The parade moved from the place of formation at State and Church streets at 11 o'clock, going to the square and later disbanding at the American Legion home.

It was led by a color guard of World war veterans and the Jacksonville State hospital band. Only three Civil war veterans were able to participate in the parade, riding in cars. Spanish-American and World war veterans had sections in the parade. Several of the allied patriotic organizations participated. The Civil war veterans able to take part in the observance were Eli Jackson, Peter Staff and Mr. Price, who is 96 years old.

Three Boy Scout troops were in the line of march, competing for the silver cup that is offered annually by the American Legion.

Basil Sorrells served as chairman of the parade, assisted by E. J. Henderson, Frank Robinson, Homer Bradney, David Holt, Harley Gill and Glenn Skinner.

Three scout troops marched in the parade. The Legion trophy cup went to Troop Two of State Street Presbyterian church. The troop will receive a new cup, as the old one was won permanently by Troop Six in its appearance in the Armistice Day parade.

W. O. Lucas is the scoutmaster of the winning troop. The scouts were judged on general appearance, marching technique, attendance and discipline.

Services were conducted at the three cemeteries in the city early yesterday morning. The services were in charge of John W. Larson, commander, and those assisting included J. C. CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

"Hurry, John Harmon! There's an omelet. I've learned the trick at last, but do hurry, darling, so we can gobble it up before anything happens to it!"

He came out to her then, his hair rumpled, a determined smile on his face. He helped her put the omelet and the coffee and the platter of bacon on the table. She was gay and flushed and very lovely in a crisp violet smock.

"Good day?" he asked casually, to make conversation.

"Quite. Sold a set of Balzac—a very rare set. Mr. Rose nearly wept when I wrapped it up."

"You don't find it dull?"

"Quiet but never dull. There are books that are better company than people—I'm just discovering it."

"Yes, I know. I've felt like that about some of them."

"How long did you sit up writing last night, John Harmon?"

"Oh, not so long. I didn't get anywhere, either—that's the worst of it—threw everything I wrote into the waste-basket. The book is going stale on me, Stan." Suddenly he stopped eating and buried his face in his hands.

"Just exactly what do you mean by that, John Harmon?"

"Just that. I can't explain it but I've lost the heart for it." Abruptly his head came up and he was speaking quickly, bitterly. "A smart novel about smart people—my heavens, Stanley, the irony of it! When the only people I ever see are so darn drab and uninteresting! You can't live the way we do and write about the sort of people that are in my book—it's a joke, a miserable joke! I'm going to ask Maynard to give me a job at the office—a regular job pounding a typewriter. It's all I'm good for anyway!"

Stanley felt her breath tighten in her throat. He had included her in "drab and uninteresting people," he had said, "You can't live the way we do." He had not meant to but he had hurt her—hurt her terribly. He had ruthlessly and carelessly snatched away something sweet and rather precious, that was her delight, in this life they had made together.

But more than she was hurt she was concerned for John Harmon. The book must really be going stale or he would never have spoken like that; would not be sitting there now, scowling and heavy-eyed letting her precious omelet sink slowly into a dejected heap on the platter. And the book was John Harmon —it was a definite part of him, he couldn't give it up and still be himself. John Harmon without the urge to write would be like a lamp with the flame snuffed out, a grate filled with gray ashes instead of glowing coal; just another dull person instead of a real, vital individual with a keen enthusiasm and an impetuous zest for living.

Suddenly Stanley forgot her own hurt in this clear conception of John Harmon no longer writing a novel but working in an office, his typewriter quiet, his study unused. And in her concern she spoke sharply.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself—sitting there like a sulky child, saying you won't play any more! Did you think you were never going to hit a snag, run up against difficulties and discouragement? Just because you've got talent and a spark of genius and can write pages that don't have to have a line rewritten doesn't mean you can go on that way indefinitely. The trouble with you, John Harmon, is that you've kept at it too long. What you need is to get away from it for a while—get outdoors and forget it and let your head clear up—for a month!"

His head came up from where he had dropped it against his clenched hands. He stared at her with tormented eyes. He had expected her to understand—or had he? Anyway, she hadn't. She thought this thing that had happened to him was something that fresh air would cure! As though it was a silly headache or a fit of temper or something equally ridiculous! Then, as he stared at her, the anger went out of his eyes, out of his tightened mouth—oh, how sweet she looked, and how troubled; with that little frown between her eyes and her cheeks very pink and her hair flung back like that from her forehead—and she was his, he had held her in his arms, loved her.

"Im a fool, darling — a selfish fool." He jumped up and went around the table and took her in his arms. Or what really happened was—he went into her arms. For the moment anyway he was the bewildered child and she the consoling mother. Perhaps in those few minutes that he knelt beside her and clung to her, John Harmon was more ingenuous with her than he had ever allowed himself to be before. For a time, at least, he forgot himself completely in his need of her; he was content to take, and in the taking he found a sweet and gentle release from the restraint which had been so much a part of his love for her.

"How's 'Gloria' coming?" Stanley would ask casually.

And so it had ended—that time. But as the days went on Stanley, watching closely without seeming to do so, knew that things were still wrong with John Harmon. Never again did he say as much in words, but he didn't need to—it was there in his eyes, in the set of his shoulders, in the forced gaiety of his smile.

"How's 'Gloria' coming?" Stanley would ask casually, coming in from the bookshop at night, bringing with her a breath of crisp air, a sparkle of winter sunset.

"Not very fast—I'm having to rewrite a lot. The people seem to have lost their realness—they're all stuffed with sawdust."

"Would it help any to read it aloud?"

"No, I'd rather not. Something's bound to happen—it'll take a brace suddenly. I wouldn't work on it for a while but I'm anxious to get it ready for spring publication—Maynard's promised to look at it, you know."

"Yes, I know. I wish I could do something, John Harmon."

"You're a darling, Stanley, I'm afraid I'm a moody fellow. Tell me you don't mind, dear?"

"Not as long as things are right with you."

"Things will always be right with me as long as I have you. I love you, Stanley."

"And I love you."

And so January slipped into February and John Harmon grew thin and anxious-eyed and sat up far into the night, and in the morning the waste-paper basket was filled with torn paper and the pile of manuscript had sometimes not benefited by a single page.
